

ADP GROUP COMPANY PROFILE

ADP Group of Companies (ADP) has played a meaningful role in some of Africa’s most interesting mining projects

Based in Cape Town, ADP Group of Companies (ADP) commenced operations in 1997 and today boasts an impressive list of successful mining industry projects predominantly in Africa, however also in Canada, Brazil, India and Australia.

ADP Group has over the years supplied diamond plants and mining technology to the likes of De Beers, Debswana, Trans Hex, Gem Diamonds, Rio Tinto, BHPB and Petra Diamonds. With the acquisition of a majority shareholding by Lycopodium Limited, it will further strengthen ADP in becoming the leading Diamond Projects EPCM Company in the Diamond Industry.

Lycopodium ADP will be targeting all minerals over and above their respective core diamond sectors. ADP Group has been specifically structured as a group of focussed companies so as to be able to optimally and cost effectively offer a full range of projects, consulting services and process plants to its clients, from conceptual studies and pre-engineered plants through to larger scale project execution using EPCM or lump sum contracting models.
